

9) Certificate Training Programme on International Maritime and Trade Law Summary Report (2021-2022)

Introduction: The Certificate Training Programme on International Maritime and Trade Law, conducted by V.M. Salgaocar College of Law, Miramar, was a specialized course designed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of the legal principles governing international maritime and trade law. The course took place from April 25 to May 7, 2022, with daily sessions held from 3 PM to 5:30 PM. This programme aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application in the rapidly evolving field of international trade and maritime law.

Course Outcomes: The course equipped participants with critical insights into international trade regulations and the legal frameworks that govern maritime activities. The key outcomes were:

- In-depth Understanding of Legal Frameworks: Participants gained a solid foundation in international trade law, including the regulations and conventions that govern cross-border trade, shipping, and maritime practices.
- Skills in Analysing Maritime Disputes and Trade Challenges: The course fostered analytical skills, enabling participants to address complex legal challenges and maritime disputes effectively.
- Global Trade Practices and Legal Implications: Participants developed a broader understanding of global trade practices, with a focus on how legal principles apply to international business and maritime operations.

Evaluation: The 30-hour course engaged 57 participants in various interactive and practical learning methodologies. The course involved detailed case studies, mock negotiations, and legal drafting exercises. The assessments emphasized problem-solving skills, legal comprehension, and the ability to apply international trade and maritime laws in practical scenarios. Evaluations were conducted through practical exercises and written assignments that tested the participants' ability to navigate legal issues in the field.

Conclusion: The Certificate Training Programme on International Maritime and Trade Law successfully provided participants with the tools and knowledge necessary to understand and engage in the complexities of maritime and trade law. The program enhanced their ability to analyze and resolve maritime disputes and trade-related challenges, making it an invaluable resource for those pursuing careers in international trade, shipping law, or dispute resolution. Overall, the course played a crucial role in preparing participants to navigate the intricacies of global trade and maritime legal systems.
