Emphasis was laid on the Target audience and outcome or impact of the activity to be documented. Report writing involves the reporting of minor and major programs with Geo-tagged photographs clearly indicating the students participating, the targeted audience and the theme of programme conducted. The in-charges were instructed to ensure media coverage and issue Press note in consultation with Faculty incharge. Formats of Press notes with limited description was illustrated.

5.3 Training on Auditing Public Spaces for Accessibility for Persons with Disabilities

A training session on auditing public spaces for accessibility was held on 15th July 2025 at V.M. Salgaocar College of Law. It was conducted by the Office of the State Commissioner for Persons with Disabilities in collaboration with the Centre for Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) & Legal Aid Society of the College. The objective was to build student awareness around accessibility and provide them with the tools and knowledge needed to assess public spaces from an inclusion perspective.

The session was facilitated by a team of five representatives from the Commission, who introduced the organisation's work and spoke about the importance of designing spaces that include everyone. Students were guided through key concepts such as the different types of disabilities and the distinction between impairment, disability, and challenge. These discussions helped students understand the various barriers persons with disabilities face in everyday life, from navigating a building without ramps to using public toilets or reading unclear signage. The session encouraged students to think critically about the built environment and how small but meaningful changes can make a big difference in making public spaces more accessible.

In the second half of the training, students were introduced to Yes to Access, a crowdsourced, AI-powered mobile App used to audit accessibility in public places. The app's features, including assessments of ramps, signage, accessible restrooms, elevators, and more, were demonstrated. Students were trained on how to use the app in real-world audits and learned how their contributions would help map the accessibility status of public spaces in Goa.

Built accessibility ensures that physical spaces are inclusive and functional for all. As a first step toward improving accessibility in India, the Yes to Access team developed this AI-powered tool to help identify both accessible and inaccessible spaces. The app uses a mix of AI and user-generated input to assess features like tactile tiles, ramps, slopes, door width, clear signage, handrails, and designated disability parking, giving each location an overall accessibility score that's visible on a map. This score can guide users in choosing inclusive spaces while encouraging businesses and institutions to make improvements.

In addition to building accessibility, the organisation also promotes digital accessibility. This ensures that websites and apps can be used by everyone, including people with visual, hearing, or cognitive disabilities. The team follows Web Content Accessibility Guidelines, which cover key areas like navigation, contrast, and alternative text, through awareness campaigns, volunteer training, and digital audits.

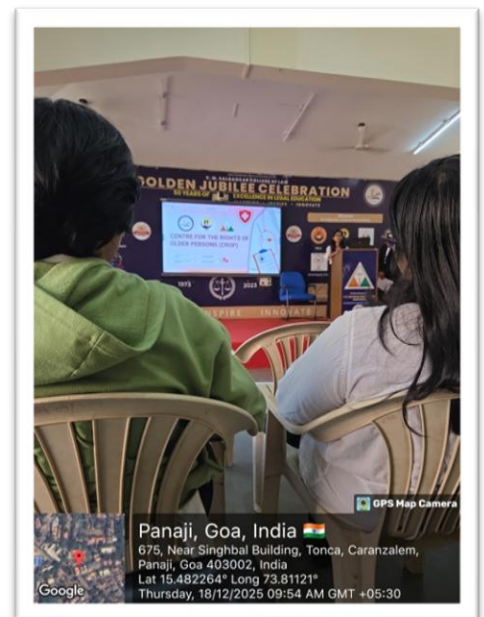

By the end of the session, the 15 students were trained and ready to conduct real audits using the Yes to Access app. Their efforts will contribute valuable data and support the broader mission of making Goa's public spaces more inclusive and accessible for people with disabilities.

5. Legal Aid Round Table 2025- Organised by Legal Services Clinic NLSIU

Date: 30th November, 2025

Miss. Dishanka Vernekar (Student Cell In-charge – Calangute Legal Aid Cell), along with Mr. Govind Sawant (Student Cell In-charge – Pernem Legal Aid Cell), represented the college at the Roundtable Conference towards the Revival of the Indian Legal Aid & Awareness Network (ILAAAN), organised by NLSIU, Bangalore. The conference was conducted in online mode and aimed at reviewing the functioning of Legal Services Clinics (LSCs), sharing best practices, identifying challenges, and exploring future avenues for inter-clinic collaboration.

The agenda of the roundtable conference included key initiatives undertaken by various Legal Services Clinics, the structure and functioning of LSCs, challenges faced by LSCs including administrative and operational issues, and the future vision with potential areas for inter-clinic collaboration.

During the conference, Miss. Dishanka Vernekar presented on key initiatives undertaken by the Legal Aid Cells and the structure and functioning of Legal Services Clinics, with specific reference to the functioning of Legal Aid Cells in Goa. It was highlighted that VM Salgaocar College of Law, earlier had 40 active Legal Aid Cells in 1998, out of which 27 Legal Aid Cells are currently functional. Each Legal Aid Cell comprises 15–20 student members, with a total student participation of 386 students across cells. As per the mandatory academic requirements, each student is required to conduct four programmes per year, resulting in approximately 1,544 legal aid and awareness programmes annually.

The presentation further explained the organisational structure and academic integration of Legal Aid Cells. The network functions under the supervision of an Overall Head and Associate Faculty members, and Legal Aid forms a practical paper in the academic curriculum. The cells actively collaborate with local Panchayats for the use of premises to conduct legal awareness programmes. Weekly Legal Aid Cell meetings are held every Saturday from 3:00 PM to 5:00 PM, during which attendance registers and student journals are maintained. In addition, weekly community sensitisation programmes are conducted every Monday to ensure continuous community engagement. Details regarding audience outreach were also shared. Minor programmes generally cater to 15–20 participants, while major programmes reach 40–50 participants, with audience strength varying depending on the location and theme of the programme.

The key initiatives undertaken by the Legal Aid Cells were discussed, including the filing of Public Interest Litigations (PILs), implementation of Project LIVE, assistance provided to a Goa accident victim in filing a legal case, and special awareness campaigns conducted on important legal days. These included RTI awareness programmes on RTI Day and street plays focusing on the Right to Information and access to justice.

The presentation also highlighted community-focused legal literacy initiatives, such as awareness programmes on social welfare schemes, assistance in obtaining tribal marriage certificates, and guidance on compulsory marriage registration under the Portuguese Civil Code and Goa's Uniform Civil Code. It was emphasised that students are adequately trained before engaging with the community to ensure accurate and responsible dissemination of legal information.

Further, the range of legal topics covered in programmes was outlined, including local land laws, issues relating to the NDPS Act, and other community-oriented legal issues. Various modes such as street plays, presentations, and interactive sessions were adopted to enhance public understanding and participation.

Mr. Govind Sawant presented on the challenges faced by Legal Services Clinics, including administrative constraints, limited resources, coordination difficulties, and operational hurdles. As we are a government-aided institution, there are certain limits on the kind of cases our Legal Aid Cell can take up. We are not allowed to handle large-scale or high-value matters, such as major real estate disputes or big commercial cases. These matters usually involve large financial interests, long court proceedings, and specialised legal work, which are beyond the role and capacity of a college Legal Aid Cell.

Therefore, our focus remains on small-scale and community-based issues that directly affect common people, such as awareness of government schemes, basic legal rights, documentation help, family and social issues, and legal literacy programmes. This allows students to learn practical law while responsibly serving society, without going beyond institutional guidelines.

He also spoke on the future vision of Legal Services Clinics, stressing the importance of inter-clinic collaboration, sharing of best practices, joint initiatives, and coordinated efforts to strengthen legal aid and legal awareness across institutions.

The conference witnessed participation from several reputed law universities and institutions across the country, including National Law School of India University (NLSIU), National Law University Delhi (NLUD), Jindal Global Law School (JGLS), V.M. Salgaocar College of Law, Christ University, BITS Law School, West Bengal National University of Juridical Sciences (NUJS), Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University (GGSIPU), Presidency University, Bengaluru, and Tamil Nadu National Law University (TNNLU).

The online roundtable conference concluded with an interactive question-and-answer session, during which participants from different institutions raised queries, shared experiences, and exchanged suggestions regarding the functioning and strengthening of Legal Services Clinics. The conference served as a valuable platform for dialogue, learning, and reinforcing the collective commitment towards access to justice and community legal empowerment. The V.M. Salgaocar College, Legal Aid Society was complemented for its presentation and evoked a good response as to functioning of the Legal Aid Cells.

➤ E-GREETING CARD ON THE OCCASION OF INTERNATIONAL DAY FOR OLDER PERSONS

Being the International Day for Older Persons on 1st October, the group suggested that we, as CROP, should wish the senior citizens on this special occasion. For this, it was suggested that a digital e-greeting card be designed and sent to senior citizens in Goa through various social media platforms. Crop members created a beautiful e-greeting poster conveying our warm wishes from CROP and also included a few basic details of CROP on the poster.

➤ PRIZE DISTRIBUTION CEREMONY – SLOGAN WRITING & POSTER MAKING COMPETITION (INTERNATIONAL DAY OF OLDER PERSONS)

To mark International Day of Older Persons, CROP organised slogan writing and poster making competitions for students of the college. THE POLICE ACTION PLAN (RULE 20)

The present project has been undertaken to strengthen the implementation of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007 and the corresponding Goa Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Rules, 2009, with particular emphasis on the operationalization of Rule 20.

While the statutory framework provides for a comprehensive mechanism for the protection of senior citizens, practical challenges often arise at the stage of implementation. The purpose of this project is therefore to bridge the gap between legal mandate and field-level execution by introducing a structured model of student volunteer participation through the Centre for the Rights of Older Persons (CROP).

Through this initiative, CROP seeks to assist the Goa Police Department in ensuring continuous engagement with senior citizens, facilitating communication and strengthening monitoring systems, especially for those who are vulnerable, living alone or residing in old age homes. The project is conceived not merely as a study, but as a practical intervention model aimed at supporting institutional functioning.

The centre initiated a structured intervention model to help the Goa Police implement Rule 20. A pilot project was established in the Bicholim Sub-Division (Bicholim, Valpoi, and Sattari). The plan involves student volunteers assisting police stations in maintaining up-to-date records of seniors living alone, facilitating monthly home visits, and creating digital communication networks, such as WhatsApp groups, for safety alerts.

Rule 20 mandates a proactive and structured role for the police authorities. It requires that every police station maintain an updated record of senior citizens within its jurisdiction, especially those living alone. It further provides that designated police representatives, preferably in coordination with social workers or volunteers, must conduct regular visits to such individuals at least once a month, while also responding promptly to any request for assistance.

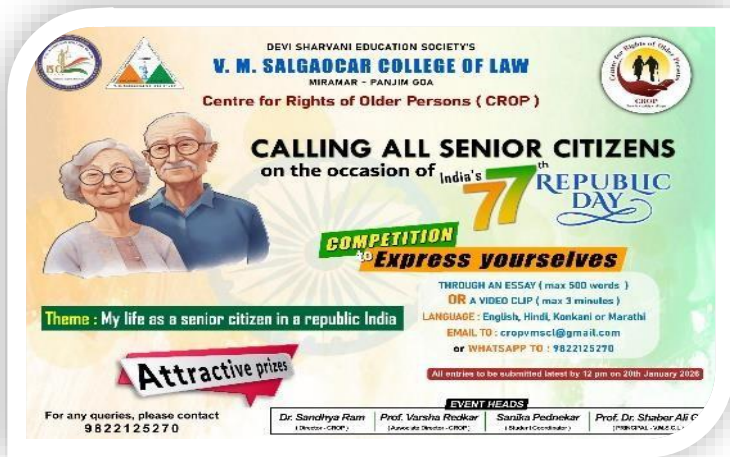

Additionally, the Rule contemplates the establishment of Volunteer Committees at the level of each police station. These committees are intended to facilitate regular interaction between senior citizens and the police, thereby creating a responsive and supportive local network. The Rule also emphasizes public awareness, maintenance of complaint registers, verification mechanisms and the promotion of community policing initiatives.

An important dimension of the project is its integration with legal aid mechanisms. In this regard, CROP has initiated collaboration with the Legal Aid Cell at Bicholim, Pilgao, and Sanquelim, along with faculty coordinators.

This collaboration ensures that the project goes beyond administrative support and incorporates a rights-based approach. Legal aid involvement will facilitate awareness among senior citizens regarding their rights under the 2007 Act, assist in grievance redressal, and provide guidance in accessing appropriate legal remedies where necessary.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS: Notably, a meeting was conducted with IPS Officer Shridevi B.V. of the Bicholim Sub-Division, to discuss the implementation of the Police Action Plan under Rule 20 of the MWPSG Goa Rules. They discussed on potential areas of collaboration between CROP, Legal Aid Cells, and the Police Department, including updating records of senior citizens and assisting victims of cyber scams. The meeting helped establish institutional support for the initiative and paved the way for forming a volunteer committee of students. Authority expressed keen interest in the initiative and extended support for its implementation. Based on these discussions, the Bicholim - Valpoi - Sattari region was identified as the pilot area. Further, coordination has been established with the Legal Aid Cell at Bicholim and the methodological framework, including the questionnaire, has been finalised.

At present, the project is in its pre-implementation stage, awaiting a final coordination meeting with the police department to initiate field activities formally.

REPUBLIC DAY

 LIFE AS A SENIOR

citizens across Goa to express their experiences through essays or video submissions. Sanika Pednekar, as Student Coordinator, played a key organisational role. She maintained email correspondence with participants, collected age verification documents, compiled entries, converted them into PDF format for evaluation, prepared the judging criteria, and drafted the official result announcement email. The competition successfully amplified the voices and experiences of senior citizens across Goa.

➤ Prize Distribution Visits to Senior Citizen Participants: Following the Republic Day competition, the CROP team personally visited participants’ residences to distribute prizes and certificates. During the visits, Students interacted with the senior citizens, listened to their experiences and concerns, and helped strengthen the relationship between the college and the senior citizen community. The initiative created meaningful engagement beyond the competition itself.

OBSERVATIONS and RECOMMENDATIONS

Following are the observations:

1. The practice rule is an essential pre-requisite to ensure judicial standards and necessary to acquaint the aspiring Judicial officers with the practical aspects of court functioning.
2. Enforcing the rule in the same manner to Persons with Disability and Persons without Disability, leads to practical disadvantage to Persons with Disabilities due to the following reasons:

a. Infrastructural barriers:

Presence of infrastructural barriers in the court premises and otherwise, which results in difficulties in access. Most of the Courts are functioning in old buildings for years together. These buildings were not designed to be disability friendly. Therefore, accessing such premises on different floors as well as commuting from one court to another is a serious issue which advocated with disabilities face due to lack of suitable means of transport. Even in buildings which are designed with suitable infrastructure to enable access to PwD, people do not exhibit sufficient civic sense; eg., other vehicles are parked in spaces reserved for PwD. Though there are rules in place to facilitate movement of PwD, these rules are not respected and effectively implemented.

b. Lack of suitable digitization:

The Judiciary as well as legal administration generally lacks suitable digitization resulting in denial of access to necessary documents as well as procedures. Persons with visual impairment have no access to legal documents like reporters, legal briefs etc. It is difficult to get opportunity to gain three years practice in such a scenario. Most of the courts do not have the system of online hearing. Therefore, it becomes virtually impossible for persons with specific disabilities to begin their practice.

c. Unwillingness of Advocates to employ PwD as an intern:

There is reluctance on the part of the Advocates to take Persons with Disability as their interns. It is a matter of practical difficulty for an advocate due to which they are mostly unwilling to take in a PwD as an intern. This amounts to a barrier for practice. Even if an Advocate employs a PwD as an intern, most probably he/she might be confined to the office rather than getting an opportunity of witnessing court proceedings. Thus, the PwD might practice with an Advocate but not have practical exposure to court proceedings.

When the system expects a particular eligibility criterion to be fulfilled as a basic condition, it should also create conditions conducive for the fulfillment of such condition and make the opportunity equally available to all aspirants.

To overcome the above problems, following are the suggestions unanimously and unequivocally recommended by all the members:

1. Law clerks' position:

Persons with disability should be employed as Law clerks in order to enable gaining requisite practical experience. This will ensure an avenue for understanding the court procedures etc. Position for Law clerks can be created in the subordinate Judiciary.

2. Placement with Legal Service Authority:

Persons with Disability can be placed with the Legal Services Authority on a stipend (Taluka/District/State level) as an alternative to internship with Advocates privately thus resolving the issue of reluctance of Advocates to take a PwD as an intern. For this purpose, the conditions for employment can be relaxed for PwD candidates.

Additionally:

i. Improving infrastructural accessibility:

All Courts and relevant structures should be made accessible to Persons with disabilities. Requirements regarding provision of lift, suitable parking etc, to be ensured for easy access.

ii. Digitization of legal documents and procedures:

Legal contents, documents, procedures should be suitably digitized so that they become easily available and accessible to all persons concerned.

iii. Sensitization and incentivization to remove attitudinal barriers:

Advocates as well as members of Judiciary to be sensitized towards the difficulties of persons with disabilities to remove the attitudinal barriers. There should be some encouragement to the Advocates to employ PwD's as interns, eg., recognition and honour from the Judiciary, Government, Commission for Persons with Disabilities, etc.

iv. Modification of judicial training curriculum:

Judicial training curriculum can be modified to make it more intensively practically oriented and effective so as to overcome any short-coming in the initial learning process.

v. Preparing database of PwD in Legal profession:

Prepare database of Law students with disabilities and practicing advocates with disabilities. This will give a clear picture of the present situation, as well as help to understand and work on the modalities necessary to accommodate the Advocates with disabilities in practice.

vi. Regularity in advertising judicial posts:

As Judicial posts are not advertised on regular basis the judicial aspirants might not get an opportunity to join the judicial services even after three years of practice. This adds up to the difficulties especially of the persons with disabilities. After completing 5 or 3 years of Law education it is expected that a person should be able to generate at least a moderate source of income for himself. However, even after completing three years of practice, a PwD might not be assured of being able to qualify for a judicial post as the post may not be advertised. This is all the more problematic for Advocates with disability as compared to advocates without disability. The posts therefore need to be advertised on regular basis.

Concluding remarks

The initiative of the honourable Supreme Court in inviting inputs from the various stakeholders; especially from the Law Colleges is a significant step which reflects the openness of the Judiciary in involving the relevant factions and the stakeholders on the subject of great significance. The present report attempts to lay down feasible suggestions to draw a balance between the requirement of maintaining high judicial standards as well as acknowledging the difficulties faced by the PwDs. The objective is to ensure substantive equality to all judicial aspirants with merit so as to create a level playing ground.

Suggestions in the report were quoted in submissions before the Supreme Court and reported in Live law

Gonsalves and Miss Rejitha Rajan from the State and District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commissions, this session aims to bridge the gap between legal theory and modern digital application. Dark Pattern Detectives

On Saturday, March 21, 2026, an insightful online activity was conducted focusing on the deceptive digital marketing strategies known as "Dark Patterns." The session, which featured a digital quiz designed for completion within 20 to 25 minutes, centered on the theme "Trap-In-Cart." The primary mission was to educate participants on how to identify these "dark patterns"—subtle user interface designs crafted specifically to trick or deceive consumers into performing actions they did not intend, such as purchasing unwanted insurance, sharing sensitive personal data, or unintentionally signing up for recurring subscriptions.

The educational portion of the activity detailed how these tactics are now legally recognized and regulated. Under the 2023 guidelines issued by the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA), dark patterns are officially classified as Unfair Trade Practices. The report highlighted several of the thirteen specific types recognized by law, including "False Urgency," which uses fake timers to rush a purchase, and "Basket Sneaking," where items are added to a digital cart without explicit consent. Other manipulative tactics discussed included "Confirmshaming"— using ridicule or guilt to sway a consumer's choice—and "Forced Action," which requires unnecessary sign-ups to access a product.

In conclusion, the activity emphasized that as digital commerce grows, the line between persuasive marketing and deceptive manipulation has become dangerously thin. The session served as a reminder that consumer awareness remains the most effective defense against these traps. A truly fair digital marketplace is defined as one where the consumer's autonomy is prioritized, ensuring that an informed "Yes" is respected and a "No" is never undermined by confusing interface designs.

ACTIVITIES

INAUGURATION

On 22nd July 2025, the Constitutional Club of V.M. Salgaocar College of Law was formally inaugurated. The launch event witnessed the enthusiastic participation of 30 student members.

Dr. Sandhya Ram, Associate Professor, and Mr. Sachin Panicker, Assistant Professor addressed the inaugural meeting. They introduced the vision and objectives of the Constitutional Club, emphasizing the importance of fostering constitutional literacy, democratic values, and active citizenship among students.

The faculty coordinators outlined the proposed activities for the academic year, which include debates, legal awareness drives, guest lectures, and student-led competitions focused on constitutional themes. The Club aims to serve as a dynamic platform for critical engagement with issues of law, governance, and social justice.

DISTINGUISHED LECTURE ON HUMAN RIGHTS

Under the aegis of the Constitutional Law Club, V.M. Salgaocar College of Law, Miramar, had the privilege of hosting Senior Advocate Colin Gonsalves for a distinguished lecture on “Recent Developments on Human Rights in the Supreme Court”, held on 26th July 2025 in the college conference hall.

In a deeply engaging and reflective address, Adv. Gonsalves explored key phases in India’s constitutional journey, shedding light on contemporary judicial approaches to human rights. Drawing from landmark Supreme Court cases, grassroots movements, and personal observations, he underscored the enduring relevance of constitutional literacy, civic courage, and active citizen engagement.

He also deliberated on issues such as the rights of tribal communities, the impact of communal violence, and urged students to critically examine legal developments through an informed and empathetic lens.

The event witnessed an enthusiastic participation of over 120 students and faculty members, who benefited immensely from the insights of one of India's most respected human rights advocates.

'THE REPUBLIC'S VARTA'

The club also launched a new informative series, 'The Republic's Varta', where we dive into pivotal legal milestones.

Our first feature covered the landmark split verdict from the Supreme Court on Section 17A of the Prevention of Corruption Act. While Justice B.V. Nagarathna struck down the provision as unconstitutional for potentially shielding corruption, Justice K.V. Viswanathan sought to preserve it by 'reading it down'—suggesting that independent bodies like the Lokpal should handle sanctions instead of the government. This case highlights a fascinating tension between protecting honest officials and ensuring accountability.

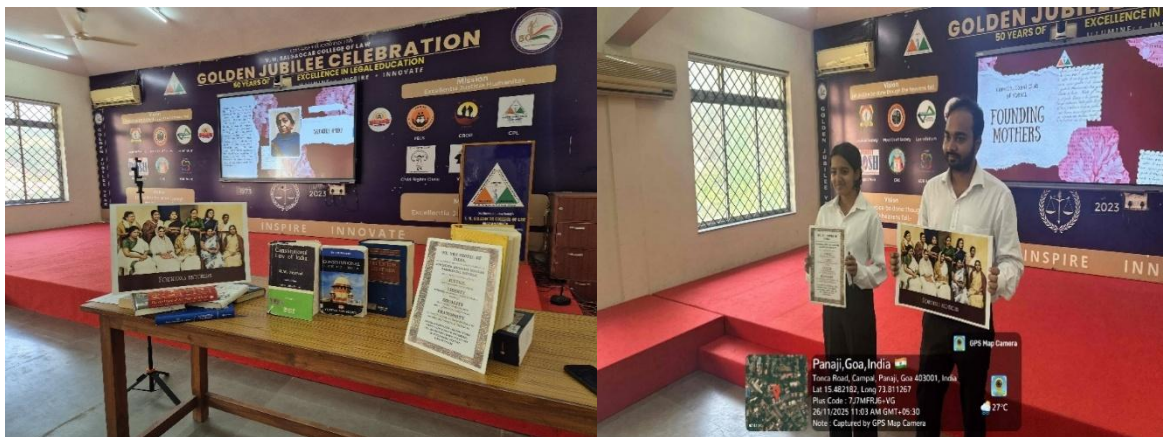

CONSTITUTION DAY CELEBRATIONS

The Constitutional Law Club commemorated Constitution Day with a series of engaging and thought-provoking activities aimed at spreading constitutional awareness and strengthening appreciation for our democratic values. The day began with the solemn reading of the Preamble, reminding everyone of the ideals of Justice, Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity that form the foundation of our nation.

Participants then tested their legal knowledge through interactive crosswords, word puzzles, and activities designed to make constitutional learning both fun and intellectually stimulating. The celebrations concluded with a quiz on Constitutional Law, where students enthusiastically participated and showcased their understanding of India's constitutional framework.

This year's theme paid special tribute to the women members of the Constituent Assembly, honouring their invaluable contributions to the making of the Indian Constitution and acknowledging their role in shaping the future of the nation. The event served not just as a celebration, but as a reminder of our duty to uphold constitutional values in everyday life.

PROGRAMME ON 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE IMPOSITION OF THE EMERGENCY

The clubs successfully organized a comprehensive commemorative programme to observe the 50th anniversary of one of the most significant periods in independent India's democratic history: the imposition of the National Emergency (1975-1977). This educational event was specifically curated for Second-Year BA LLB students, with the primary objective of providing a thorough legal and historical understanding of the Emergency provisions in the Constitution and their profound implications for fundamental rights and constitutional governance.

The programme was strategically divided into three distinct yet interconnected segments to maximize both academic comprehension and participant engagement: an expert lecture, followed by a knowledge-testing quiz, and concluding with an interactive, fun game. The session was conducted by Mr Sachin S. Panicker, Assistant Professor of Law, who provided the academic foundation, and Mr Joshua D'Souza, a TY BA LLB student, who expertly managed the interactive segments.

❖ Compulsory Moot Court 2025-2026

Faculty Incharges:

1. Dr. Ranjana Ferrao
2. Asst. Prof. Roshant Parwar

The Compulsory Moot Court for the academic year 2025-26 was conducted in two sessions. The first session took place on 6th September 2025 for LL.B. Degree students and on 8th September 2025 for B.A.LL.B. students. The second session was held on 2nd and 3rd February 2026. Before both sessions commenced, Prof. MRK Prasad provided a brief orientation to the faculty members to ensure smooth coordination and uniform evaluation across all courtrooms.

This practical exercise forms a vital and compulsory component of both the B.A.LL.B. and LL.B. degree programmes. It begins from the sixth semester for B.A.LL.B. students and from the third semester onwards for the LL.B. programme. As part of their practical paper, every student is required to participate in three moot courts during their course of study.

The main objectives of the moot court are to help students develop strong advocacy skills, sharpen their legal research and analytical abilities, and build confidence in a professional courtroom setting. A realistic court atmosphere was recreated for the exercise. Students received mock problems well in advance and were assigned clear roles as either petitioner or respondent. They prepared detailed memorials and presented their arguments before a bench, responded thoughtfully to questions from the judges, and participated in rebuttal sessions.

The sessions were judged by regular, contract-based, and visiting faculty members of the College. Each student was evaluated out of 10 marks based on several important criteria: depth of knowledge of law and facts, clarity and logical structure of arguments, courtroom etiquette, quality of responses to questions, and overall persuasiveness.

Students were expected to arrive on time, dress in proper court attire, maintain a professional journal, and conduct themselves with dignity and respect. This hands-on training plays a crucial role in bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world legal practice. It not only prepares students for the challenges of litigation but also nurtures essential qualities such as composure, clear thinking, and effective communication skills that will serve them well throughout their legal careers.

About ADR Board

The ADR Board of the College was established way back in 2005 with a view to cultivate and promote a culture of ADR among law students. Each academic year the Board creates a pool of select and committed students who are inducted as members of the ADR Board.

The ADR Board of the College provides comprehensive training and practical exposure to students in Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) through structured client counselling, negotiation, and mediation exercises. The Board conducts orientation sessions for all students interested in joining, thereby encouraging their active participation in national and international ADR competitions. Membership on the ADR Board is determined through a rigorous selection process, in which candidates are presented with a case problem two days in advance and receive confidential information twenty minutes prior to their assessment. This process is designed to evaluate students' abilities to negotiate and develop innovative solutions to contemporary issues.

Upon successful completion of the selection rounds, students are appointed as members of the ADR Board. These members undergo additional training and are granted opportunities to represent the college at both national and international competitions. Faculty coordinators and institute members play a key role in conducting numerous training sessions for those representing the college in National and International ADR competitions. Additionally, students who have earned recognition during the 2024-2025 academic year actively contribute by facilitating the trial rounds. The ADR Board also organised three mandatory Client Counselling sessions for final-year students enrolled in the BALL.B. and LL.B. degree programmes, which formed an integral component of their practical coursework.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION (LEX INFINITUM 2026)

1. Institutional Profile and Conference Foundation

The convening of the International Conference on ADR in 2026 marks a strategic milestone for the Devi Sharvani Education Society's V. M. Salgaocar College of Law (VMSCL), coinciding with the institution's Golden Jubilee. Since 1973, VMSCL has operated under the mandate of "Excellentia, Justitia et Humanitas" (Excellence, Justice, and Humanity). This conference serves as the intellectual manifestation of the "Humanitas" pillar, drawing directly from the college's 50-year legacy of social context legal education and its pioneering work through Legal Aid Cells and Clinics. This foundation of grassroots advocacy provides the necessary credibility to transition from traditional litigation toward a globalized ADR discourse, positioning the college as a vanguard of modern dispute resolution.

Recognized by the Bar Council of India and affiliated with Goa University, VMSCL's commitment to excellence is validated by a storied history of accolades. These include the first-ever All India Institutional Leadership Award (2011) from the Society of Indian Law Firms and the Menon Institute of Legal Advocacy, the Herbert Smith Freehills Community Engagement Award, and the Droit Penale Award. Notably, the institution has been consistently recognized with the Knowledge Steez Award in 2018, 2019, 2024, and 2025. This historical momentum has fuelled the ADR Board's mandate to evolve "Lex Infinitum" from a premier competition into an internationally acclaimed academic platform. By serving as the scholarly bridge between the 10th edition ("Building Bridges: Mediation for Conflict Resolution") and the 11th edition in 2026, this conference solidifies VMSCL's trajectory from a regional leader to a global hub for mediation and negotiation. These historical milestones and the institution's rigorous training frameworks provided the requisite foundation for the ambitious objectives of the 2026 international conference.

The occasion became a moment of unity and reflection, where generations of the VMSCL community came together to celebrate a legacy of excellence and envision its future.

The function marked the grand culmination of a year-long Celebration that began with an inspiring inaugural address by Hon'ble Justice B.V. Nagarathna, Judge of the Supreme Court of India.

Throughout the academic year, V. M. Salgaocar College of Law hosted a series of impactful events that celebrated its legacy while engaging students and faculty in shaping its future. Notable among them was the Golden Jubilee Logo Designing Competition, the inauguration of an Incubation Centre for budding lawyers, and the highly participative essay competition titled "My Vision for VMS: Gold to Platinum", where students, alumni and staff articulated their aspirations for the institution's journey ahead.

The Valedictory Function of the Golden Jubilee was a fitting tribute to the visionaries who laid the foundation of the college, as well as a clarion call to the next generation of legal scholars to carry forward the torch of justice and wisdom.

2. Dr. Priya Onsker

3. Ms. Siddhi Naik

During the academic year 2025–26, a total of four Internal Semester Assessments (ISA) were successfully conducted for the B.A. LL.B. and LL.B. Degree programme, with two assessments held in each semester. The examinations were systematically planned and executed in accordance with the academic calendar, ensuring smooth coordination between faculty, administrative staff, and students. The first set of ISA examinations (ISA I) was conducted in August–September 2025, followed by ISA II in September 2025. The timetable covered all five years of the B.A. LL.B. programme, and three years of LL.B. Degree with examinations scheduled across multiple subjects including core law papers, interdisciplinary subjects, and minor papers. Each paper was conducted for a duration of one hour, adhering strictly to institutional guidelines. During the second term, the first set of ISA examinations (ISA I) was conducted in February 2026, followed by ISA II in March 2026. The law subjects were assessed through problem-based questions designed to test analytical and application skills, while the non-law subjects followed a descriptive format focusing on conceptual understanding and articulation.

The ISA process involved the participation of approximately 1000+ students across all years, distributed across multiple examination halls with a structured seating arrangement to ensure discipline and avoid overcrowding.

Adequate invigilation was ensured through the involvement of both full-time and contract faculty members, along with lecture-basis faculty, demonstrating strong institutional collaboration.

Comprehensive administrative planning supported the conduct of the ISA. This included preparation of detailed timetables, printing of attendance sheets, arrangement of answer scripts, classroom seating plans, and supervisor allotments. Approximately 10,000 answer scripts were arranged to meet assessment requirements across sessions, ensuring no logistical constraints during the examinations. Clear communication was maintained with students and faculty through notices and digital platforms.

Strict guidelines were enforced to maintain the integrity and discipline of the examination process. Students were required to adhere to dress code norms, carry valid ID cards, and comply with examination rules prohibiting the use of electronic devices and malpractice. Invigilators ensured adherence to these rules, contributing to a fair and transparent assessment environment. Overall, the conduct of the four ISA examinations was efficient and well-coordinated.

❖ TRIAL ADVOCACY REPORT

DATE: Thursday, December 18, 2025

Venue: Moot Court Hall

Subject: Procedural Overview of Criminal Trials under BNSS and NDPS Act

The session was designed to provide a comprehensive observation of criminal procedure, tracing a case from the initial scene of the offense to the final judgment. The mock trial opened with two critical scenes illustrating the initiation of a criminal case. The narrator noted that the NDPS Act requires stringent adherence to sampling procedures and rights notification; any lapse constitutes a major illegality. Subsequently, an FIR was registered under Section 173 of the BNSS. The transition to the courtroom illustrated the jurisdictional nuances between general crimes and NDPS cases. The core of the advocacy exercise focused on the examination of witnesses and the burden of proof. The process included Chief Examination by the Public Prosecutor, followed by Cross-examination by the Defense. The Judge dictated the substance of the testimony to the Steno. Both the Prosecution and Defense submitted oral and written arguments. The Judge pronounced the substance of the judgment in open court. The programme concluded with the adjournment of the court and a vote of thanks by Dr. K. S. Rao.

Shri Desmond D’Costa, Chairperson of the Goa Human Rights Commission. In his keynote address on the topic Human Rights of Trafficked women Shri Desmond D’Costa emphasized that Human trafficking is an organized crime. It is a grave violation of human rights. While trafficking is a process, exploitation of women and children is the result. He explained the constitutional provisions available to trafficked women. He went on to discuss the legislative enactments meant for creating a protective and rehabilitative mechanism for women. He stressed on the urgent need to strengthen the legal system and coordinate with neighbouring states to disrupt trafficking networks. To stop this crime, information is power. It’s not just about being informed, it’s about spreading the word. Regular checks at hotels drives to gather intelligence can help curb illicit activities. The more people understand what trafficking is and how to recognize the risks it will help prevent the crime. Trafficked women judged, not helped, says Dr Rupesh Bhatkar Seminar on Human Rights Day exposes the prejudice that fuels exploitation

Team Herald

PANDE: A simple question exposes an uncomfortable truth about Indian society. If two women stand before us — one raped by a businessman and another raped and later forced into prostitution — who is more likely to get married?

"The general public will say the rape survivor," says Dr Rupesh Bhatkar, a mental health professional who has worked extensively with trafficked women. "That tells us something disturbing — we don't see trafficked women as victims at all. We see them as socially damaged."

He was speaking at a seminar organised to mark Human Rights Day at V M Salgocar College of Law.

Dr Bhatkar said society's usual complex functions with stark double stan-ards. A man with multiple sexual partners is praised as "manly", while a woman in the same situation is branded "characterless". "These judgments are not just social — they seep into our institutions, hospitals, and even textbooks," he said.

Growing up in a middle-class home, he recalls these conversations around sex work, trafficking or prostitution never took place. Like many others, his early understanding came from whispered conversations among friends — that sex workers were "bad women" responsible for spreading disease.

In medical college, sex workers were spoken of only in the context of HIV and STDs," he said. "We learned about condoms and prevention — never about where these women came from, why they were there, or whether they had a choice."

His perspective changed after he began working at a government mental health institution, where social activists brought women rescued from brothels and trafficking networks.

One young woman undergoing treatment for severe depression improved significantly. On the last day of her treatment, she unexpectedly fell in his lap.

"She told me, 'Doctor, you saved me — but more importantly, you didn't look at me the way other doctors do.'"

What she described next shocked him. During a previous medical examination elsewhere, a doctor had said, "She wasn't ashamed to sleep with so many people — why should she be ashamed now?"

"That was the day I realised how deep the stigma runs — even among healthcare professionals," he said.

As he continued working closely with rescued women, he encountered stories that challenged his understanding of morality, consent and exploitation — particularly those rooted in the Gravitas system.

Girls from poor families are 'dedicated' to temples in the name of faith. In reality, this marks the beginning of sexual exploitation.

"The mother believes she is doing something sacred," he explained. "But in practice, the girl is introduced into prostitution. Trafficking hides behind religion."

Many of these girls never go to school, are denied choices, and grow up believing exploitation is their destiny.

Dr Bhatkar admitted that even as a trained professional, he had never examined the system deeply until he began listening to survivors.

"We spoke about HIV, infections, gynaecological problems — but not about trauma, coercion, caste poverty or gender violence," he said.

What he learned was unsettling. Most women in prostitution did not choose to be there. Many were trafficked as minors, sold by relatives, abandoned after rape, or pushed into exploitation through ritual practices.

INTRODUCTORY SESSION ON "COUNSELLING AND ITS BENEFITS"

An introductory session on the topic "Counselling and its Benefits" was conducted by the College Counsellor, Mrs. Trisha Almeida for the newly admitted students of First Year B.A.LL.B., Divisions A and B, at V.M. Salgaocar College of Law, Miramar-Goa. The primary objective of this orientation was to introduce the students to the comprehensive mental health support system available within the institution, establish rapport, and destigmatize the act of seeking help. The session commenced with a brief self-introduction by the College Counsellor, outlining their professional background and clearly defining the confidential nature of their work and the scope of services provided to the student community. This was immediately followed by a short, engaging introductory activity designed to help the students connect with one another, fostering a sense of familiarity and building initial group rapport before diving into the core subject matter.

The main segment of the session focused on a detailed discussion of counselling and its multifaceted benefits, emphasizing that it is a proactive tool for personal development, stress management, and emotional resilience, not merely a resource for crisis intervention. A significant portion of the talk was dedicated to breaking common myths surrounding mental health and counselling, challenging stigmas, and normalizing emotional struggle. The discussion moved into practical indicators, outlining how a student can determine if their challenges—such as persistent stress, anxiety, academic pressure, or difficulty adjusting to the rigorous law school environment—warrant professional support. This included identifying emotional and behavioural changes that signal a need for external help.

To ensure clarity and accessibility, the session concluded by detailing the specific counselling services available at the college. The students were clearly informed about the Counsellor's regular working days and timings, and a straightforward, confidential process for scheduling an appointment was explained. This information was shared to demystify the logistics and encourage proactive use of the service. Finally, the session concluded interactively by soliciting suggestions from the students themselves, asking them to propose specific mental health and well-being topics they would like to see covered in future talks or workshops. This feedback mechanism ensured that future programming would be relevant and directly cater to the expressed needs and interests of the first-year cohort.

WORLD SUICIDE PREVENTION DAY PROGRAM

Date: September 18, 2025

Time: 10:00 a.m.

Venue: Conference Hall, V.M. Salgaocar College of Law (VMSCL), Miramar-Goa

Organized by: The VMSCL Counselling Center, Child Rights Clinic (CRC), and Women's Empowerment Cell (WEC)

In collaboration with: COOJ Mental Health Foundation, Bastora-Goa

The V.M. Salgaocar College of Law (VMSCL) successfully hosted a program in observance of World Suicide Prevention Day on September 18, 2025. The event was held at 10 a.m. in the college's conference hall and was a collaborative effort between the college's Counselling Center, Child Rights Clinic (CRC), and the Women's Empowerment Cell (WEC), in collaboration with the COOJ Mental Health Foundation. The program's comperes were Ms. Raisa Pinto and Mr. Aasraf Aga.

The program commenced with a warm welcome note delivered by the Principal of VMSCL, Dr. Shabir Ali. G. He was followed by Dr. Kim Couto, the Director of the Child Rights Clinic and the Women's Empowerment Cell, who provided a brief overview of the work and importance of both the clinic and the cell within the college community.

The chief guest for the day was Ms. Donella Noronha, a coordinator from COOJ Mental Health Foundation. She delivered an insightful and highly interactive session on the critical yet often stigmatized topic of 'suicide and its prevention.' Ms. Noronha effectively debunked common myths surrounding suicide and engaged the students in a dialogue that taught them not only how to identify signs and symptoms in themselves but also how to support friends and loved ones in need. Her talk was exceptionally enriching for all in attendance.

Following the chief guest's address, the college counsellor, Mrs. Trisha Almeida, spoke to the gathering. Her speech emphasized the profound importance of human connection in helping someone in distress. She also highlighted the critical message that seeking professional help is a sign of strength, not weakness, especially when dealing with suicidal thoughts.

The program also featured powerful student performances designed to raise awareness:

- A skit by CRC students highlighted the importance of empathy when a friend or loved one is dealing with suicidal thoughts, offering practical advice on how to seek help.
- A dance performance by WEC students focused on the significance of safeguarding women's mental health and brought attention to the atrocities that can lead to women tragically ending their lives.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof. Ruchira Naik, expressing gratitude to all speakers, performers, collaborators, and attendees for making the program a meaningful success.

The World Suicide Prevention Day program served as an important platform for open discussion and education, reinforcing the college's commitment to the mental health and well-being of its students and staff.

TWO-DAY MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

The Counselling Centre at V.M. Salgaocar College of Law, Miramar-Goa, successfully organized a two-day Mental Health Awareness Program on October 1st and 2nd, 2025, to pre-commemorate World Mental Health Day (observed annually on October 10th). The program was designed to foster greater awareness and engagement with mental well-being among the students.

The first day, October 1st, focused on off-stage events, drawing a large and enthusiastic participation from the student body. These events included an Inter-Class Poster Making Competition on the theme, "Access to Services—Mental Health in Catastrophes and Emergencies," which saw F.Y.B.A.LL.B. secure the 1st place, followed by S.Y.B.A.LL.B. in 2nd place, and T.Y.B.A.LL.B. in 3rd place. Additionally, a Poetry Competition was held, offering students creative freedom on topics like "the unseen battles," "the beauty of imperfections," and "letter to my Younger self." The poetry winners were Kaushal Bhatia (S.Y.LL.B.) in 1st place, Stuti Dey (F.Y.B.A.LL.B.) in 2nd place, and a shared 3rd place between Shravani Kambli (F.Y.B.A.LL.B.) and Rudra Sawant (F.Y.LL.B.). Unfortunately, the Elocution Competition, planned on the topic, "mental health vs physical disability," received no entries.

The main program was held on October 2nd, 2025. It began with a warm welcome note delivered by the Principal, Dr. Shabir Ali. G., followed by an introductory session by the college counsellor, Mrs. Trisha Almeida, who elaborated on the history and significance of celebrating World Mental Health Day. The highlight of the day was the address by the Chief Guest, Dr. Ravindra Narayan Agarwal, a distinguished Psychiatrist and Research Fellow at Sangath, India. Dr. Agarwal delivered a great and interactive talk on the crucial topic, "Resilience as a Shield: Protecting Mental Health in the Face of Adversity," which was well-received by the audience. Following the talk, the winners of the poster and poetry competitions were formally announced, and certificates were distributed by the Chief Guest. As a special feature, the poetry competition winners were given the opportunity to recite their poems once again in front of the dignitaries and the entire audience. The impactful two-day program concluded with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Prof. Disha Sardessai.
